The ESREL 2006 International Conference on Safety and Reliability for Managing Risk, took place in Estoril, Portugal, on 18 – 22 September 2006. The purpose of the conference is to present and discuss innovative as well as traditional methods and applications for improving the design and operation of products, processes, equipment and installations from a safety point of view, while taking into account the realistic constraints on the available physical and economical resources. Consideration is also given to the societal factors influencing the use of risk assessment and risk management methods.

Mr. Georgios Papadakis, Ms. Paschalia Machaira and Ms. Anastasia Chalkidou represented TUC in the ESREL 2006 Conference and presented papers on Management Systems, G. A. Papadakis, P. Machaira, K. Kokkinos., and on Occupational Risk in Workplaces with Dangerous Substances, G. A. Papadakis, A. Chalkidou, M. Stampouli.

In the ESREL 2006 the representatives of TUC had the opportunity of presenting the ECOIL project results and aims to the participants of the conference with the following means:
